I hope all of you are in good health and enjoying the nice weather. The students have been enjoying the crisp morning air and have smiles on their faces when they greet me each morning. Their positive attitudes are contagious!

As September comes to an end, I look forward to sharing October's gift with you, the gift of Life. I feel two verses in particular express this gift, "I chose you when I planned creation." Ephesians 1:11-12, and "You were not a mistake, for all your days are written in my book" Psalm 139:15-16. How wonderful God makes us feel! Please know that your children are special. We strive to make them feel their uniqueness each day and to feel God's love for them.

During this special week of the Pope's visit, I hope you have been able to view some of the media coverage. It is such a good time to be Catholic!

Peace in Christ,
Mrs. Jill Lonnemann

Counselor's Corner:

Dear Ms. Rauen,

I am really struggling with homework and studying right now. I just can never find the time to get it all completed between school and all of my extracurricular activities. How can I find time to get my work done for school and still be able to do the other stuff I like to do? Please help!

Sincerely,
Troubled for Time

Dear Troubled for Time,

It is always hard to juggle our responsibilities with having time to relax and have fun. By using these time management tips, hopefully you'll be able to find the time you need to get your homework and studying completed while still being able to participate in extracurricular activities:

- Make a schedule. By using a daily, weekly or even monthly calendar, you will have an easier time keeping track of all the important events going on. Use this to help you prioritize assignments that are due soon or getting a jump start on those that aren't due for a while.
- Work in a quiet study spot. When there are fewer distractions, there is less time being wasted! Also, make sure you have all the supplies you need so you are not wasting time trying to find everything.
- Make a To Do list. Write down all your homework, chores, activities, etc. for the day. Then cross off each item as you complete it. This will help you keep track of what still needs to be done.

Take advantage of free time on the weekends. I know it doesn't sound like fun, but use any free time you have on the weekend to get caught up, review or even get ahead on homework assignments and tests. This will help save you time during the next week for any extracurricular activities.

What's New in the Classroom?

PE

Second grade students were having fun practicing dribbling and trapping in soccer. They also worked on dribbling the ball in different pathways and directions. The students did a great job controlling their ball so it didn't touch a cone. To warm up, students started the class with an aerobic Chicken Dance in celebration of Oktoberfest!

Art

In Art this week 2nd grade painted watercolor resist pictures of aquariums.

Music

Elementary Choir is well under way! We have a great membership this year, with 50 students from grades 3-7. This is, by far, the largest choir group I have had since starting here at St. Pius. Our first concert will be held in November, with the theme of all American music. I am beyond thrilled to be working with such an excited and eager group of St. Pius students wanting to make music! 5th grade parents: welcome to recorders! Just a reminder, that your students should be asking you to sign their practice logs each week.

Buddies Meet and Greet

The eighth and second grade and the seventh and first grade students were very excited on Friday to meet their Buddies for the year! After Mass the students met and did a "Getting To Know You" activity. The Buddies will meet periodically throughout the year for group activities and will get to sit together each week during our all school Mass.

Safe Environment Programs

Last week you received an email about the Safe Environment Programs that the children will participate in at school. These are mandated by the Diocese of Covington. The children in grades k-4 will participate in a program from the Family Nurturing Center called "Kids on the Block," and the children in 5-8 will participate in a program from the Council on Child Abuse of Southern Ohio called "Personal Safety." These programs will take place on October 1st and October 7th. If you do not want your child to participate, please refer to the previous sent email complete the Opt Out form.

Urgent Chess Club Message!

Parents, our St. Pius X Chess Club has a long tradition of success. The club typically has 80 or more members, and the students love the competition. Moving forward, we need two parent volunteers to help run the club. Mr. Mark Romer and Mrs. Gretchen MacKnight are willing to show parents how to set up registration, run the club tournament, and are happy to advise during the entire season. We also have two teachers assigned to help during each meeting and a coach. Without parent volunteers, the club may not continue to be offered. Please contact Gretchen MacKnight at 859-802-7518 or the school off

Traditionally, the meetings happen on the first and third Thursdays of each month. (The PMRs are already reserved from October-March, from 1pm-3:30pm - through Debbie Leuthner in the church office.)

We will have a $1 Out-of-Uniform (Jeans) Day on October 8. Students will also pray for the Seminarians during Eucharistic Adoration on that same day.
